DESCRIPTION

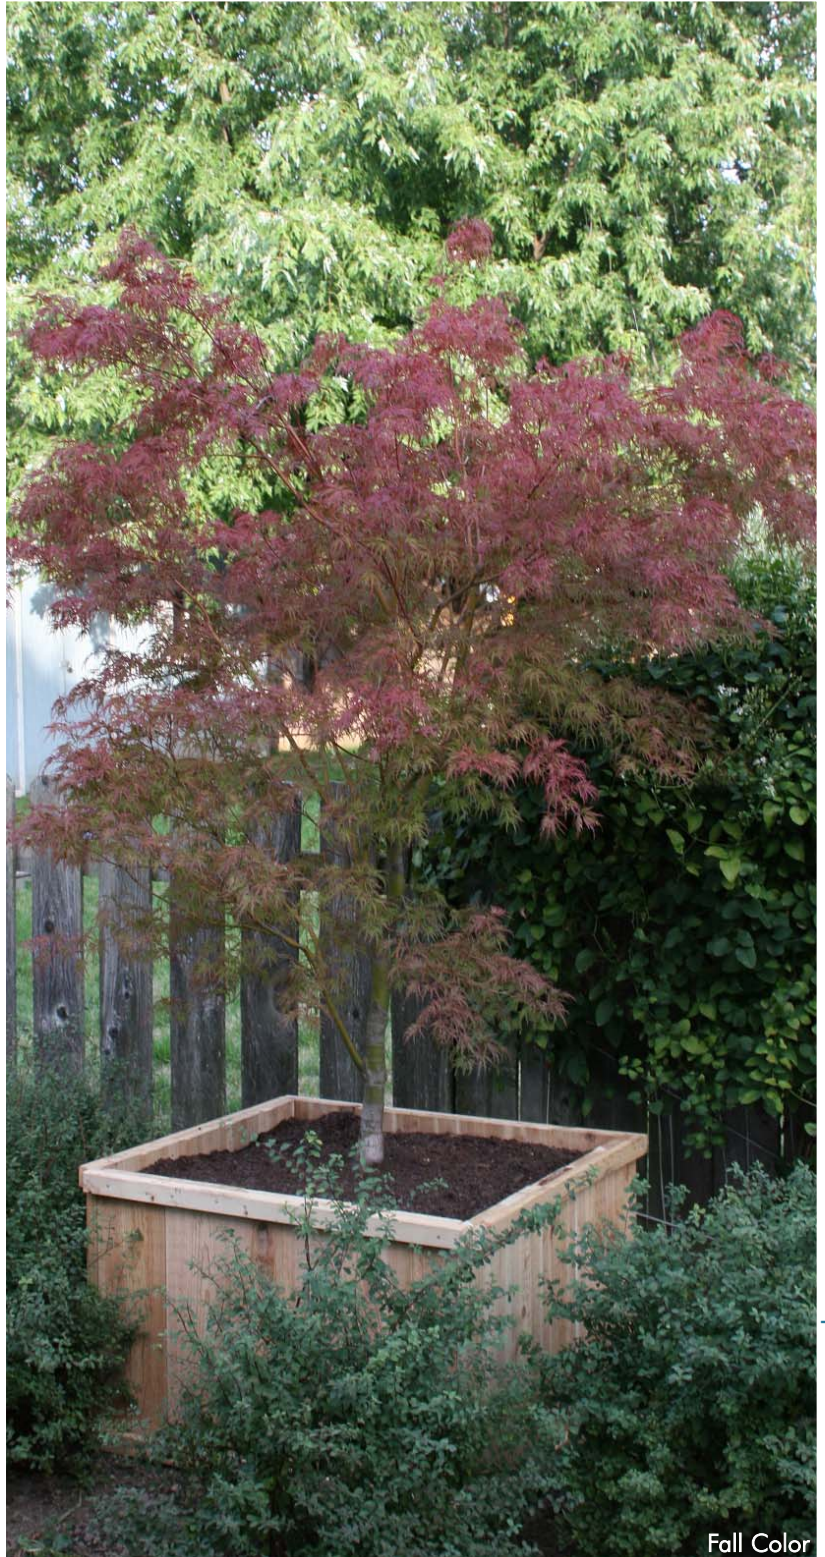

Japanese Maples are a treasured asset in the garden. Their beauty and diverse selection of colors, leaf type and form ensures that there is a cultivar to fit nearly every landscape situation.

'Seriyu' is unusual for the dissected maple group in that it is not a weeping form - it has a strong upright habit. Its small leaves unfold with a tinge of red, changing to bright green during the growing season. Fall color includes gold, orange and crimson tones. 'Seriyu' will grow to approximately 15' x 10' in average garden settings.

Provide full sun with moist, well-drained soil. The name 'Seriyu' means "blue-green dragon".
