

Cherokee Chief Flowering Dogwood

Cornus florida var. rubra 'Cherokee Chief'

SPECS

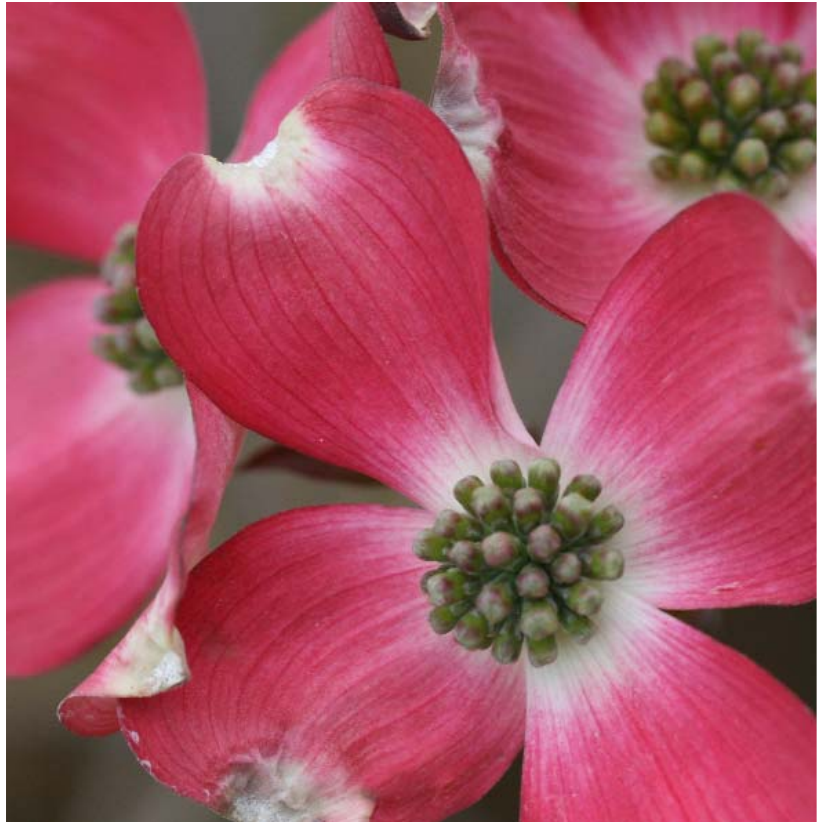

Height:	20"
Spread:	20'
Shape:	upright, spreading
Foliage:	green
Fall Color:	red-purple
Flowers:	red
Fruit:	drupe
Zone:	5

DESCRIPTION

Cornus florida, or Flowering Dogwood, is an excellent small tree for gardens! Their colorful bracts in early spring are long lasting, and most exhibit wonderful fall color. Provide this Dogwood type with organic, acidic, well-drained soils in partial shade. Full sun sites will need adequate moisture during the summer months.

'Cherokee Chief' has an upright habit, forming a spreading, rounded crown. Its deep rosy-red flowers are borne in spring, with fall offering purple-red foliage and small red fruits.

Plant in groupings, as a single specimen, or in woodland and naturalized gardens.

7679 Worthington Rd. Galena, OH 43021
614.891.9348PH 800.340.9348TF
www.acornfarms.com
©Acorn Farms, Inc.