DESCRIPTION

Fringetree is a beautiful large shrub or small tree with an open, spreading habit. Its showy fringe-like, drooping white flowers are borne in late spring. The effect of this plant in full flower is spectacular! Large clusters of blue fruits are produced in fall and is adored by birds. Its lustrous, dark green foliage is attractive all season.

Utilize Fringetree in moist soil as a specimen plant, in groupings, and along streams or ponds. Excellent for borders and in the woodland garden.
