DESCRIPTION

Weigela has long been valued for their profuse display of brightly colored flowers in late spring. They are extremely adaptable to soil type and grow best in full sun.

Maroon Swoon™ is an excellent performer in the landscape, producing an abundance of dark red flowers that are set off against its rich green foliage.

Utilize this shrub in perennial and shrub borders or massed in the landscape. With a light pruning to tidy the plant after flowering, it could be incorporated into foundation plantings or used as a single specimen.
