DESCRIPTION

Japanese Maples are a treasured asset in the garden. Their beauty and diverse selection of colors, leaf type and form ensures that there is a cultivar to fit nearly every landscape situation.

'Tsuma Gaki' is an upright tree with a wide, spreading form. Many trees will be wider than tall. Its foliage emerges a soft yellow-green edged with purple-red, gradually changing to deep green with hints of red during the summer months. Fall brings out deeper red and crimson tones across the leaf.

'Tsuma Gaki' does well in full sun with moist, well-drained soil. It will appreciate a site with light afternoon shade in areas with extreme summer heat.
