DESCRIPTION

Weigela has long been valued for their profuse display of brightly colored flowers in late spring. They are extremely adaptable to soil type and grow best in full sun.

'Red Prince' is an upright grower with a dense habit and strong stems. Its bright red flowers hold their color without fading and the plant will sporadically rebloom during the summer.

Utilize 'Red Prince' in shrub borders or massed in the landscape. With a little pruning to tidy the plant after flowering, it could be incorporated into foundation plantings or used as a single specimen.
